Dear Hiring Professional,

     I am a passionate, driven front-end Javascript developer with experience developing RESTful full apps, APIs and sites. I specialize in single page MEAN stack (Mongoose, Express and ANgular) apps, but programming is both a hobby and a career for me, so I love to learn new libraries and frame works whenever I can.

     In addition to my technical skills, I also bring to the table, years of customer service, project management and administrative experience which gives me a unique insight into the features and designs that make for intuitive and satisfying UX/UI.

     Please check out my github and www.jfetter.com to see samples of my work.

cheers,
